
Chattooga Woman Dies in Walker County Accident

Contributed by Jimmy Holbrook
Monday, 15 May 2017

The Georgia State Patrol says that a Chattooga County woman lost her life in a single-vehicle car accident early Monday morning. State Troopers say that twenty-three-year-old Jessica “Jessie” Tudor crashed sometime between 5 AM and 5:30 AM. She was headed north on East Armuchee Road in Walker County when her vehicle, a 2008 Toyota FJ Cruiser, left the roadway and struck culvert – flipping several times. A passing motorist spotted Tudor’s vehicle around 6:20 AM on Monday morning and reported the accident. The Georgia State Patrol believes that Tudor’s Toyota traveled over 400 feet before coming to a halt. Tudor was not wearing her seatbelt, according to the GSP.